

OPEIU Web Site Privacy Policy

We recognize that your privacy is important, and that you have the right to know how we treat the information you provide to us through this Web site. If you have questions about privacy that this policy does not answer, please contact us.

1. Information About You That OPEIU Gathers Or Tracks Through This Web Site, And What We Do With It.

If you visit our site to obtain information regarding your trusts and benefit plans or to browse our site, we collect and store the following information:

- (1). The name of the domain and host from which you access the Internet (for example, aol.com);
- (2). The Internet protocol address of the computer you are using;
- (3). The browser software you use and your operating system;
- (4). The date and time you access our site; and
- (5). The Internet address of the website from which you linked directly to our site.

We use this information only to fulfill your requests for our services, to improve our services to you, and to measure the number of visitors to our site.

2. No Personal Health Information Collected.

This Web site describes our services, many of which involve personal health information. However, because we do not conduct those services through this Web site, the strong confidentiality protections we have in place for those services are not reflected in this Web site Privacy Policy. We collect no personal health information through this Web site.

3. We Do Not Use “Cookies” to Collect Information About You.

We do not contract with any of the Internet marketing or tracking companies that use “cookies” (small text files that can be attached to your computer when you are online), and we do not use cookies ourselves. If another website that you visit has attached a cookie to your computer before you visit our site, we cannot prevent that cookie from continuing to track your Internet use while you are visiting our site.

4. Sharing of Information.

Except as described above, we do not share your information with anyone.

5. Correction/Updating/Deletion/Deactivation Policy.

You may request that we delete or deactivate your contact information in our web site database by using the Contact Us connection to tell us of your requested change.

6. Third Party Disclaimer

This Privacy Policy does not apply to any other Web site you go to from this site, including those to which we have provided links for your convenience. If you are concerned about or interested in the privacy practices or policies of other Web sites you visit, you may wish to review their posted privacy policy.
